

UNUSUAL SEASON FOR ORCHESTRA

Program for 1926-27 Series Announced This Week.

POP. CONCERT PLANNED

The Main Line Orchestra Association, under the presidency of Mr. Charles S. Powell, has announced the biggest season it has yet offered its subscribers.

Beginning with Nina Morgana, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, in an intimate recital on Sunday, October 17, and continuing with monthly concerts until May 8, the association has planned an excellent series. A new departure for the coming season will be a popular concert of the University of Pennsylvania Band on January 16.

Capacity Limited.

In announcing the forthcoming concerts the association called the attention of its subscribers to the fact that the seating capacity is limited and that therefore all those desirous of securing season tickets should make application as early as possible.

The complete program as announced is as follows:

Sundays, October 17, "Intimate Recital," Nina Morgana; November 14, First Concert Main Line Orchestra, with soloist; January 16, Popular concert, University of Pennsylvania Band; February 13, second concert Main Line Orchestra, with soloist; March 27, "Intimate Recital" by Ensemble Group; May 8, Third Main Line Orchestra concert with soloist.

The association, which is working without profit or gain, and which in the past has been largely supported by one of Ardmore's most public-spirited citizens, is endeavoring to bring the best in music to the people of the Main Line. It is working for the support of the remarkable accomplishments attained by the Main Line Orchestra, which organization has been conceded by Philadelphia critics to be the finest amateur orchestra in this section of the country.

Still Has Vacancies.

Procurement agencies for the Citizens' Military Training Camps have just been informed that Camp Meade, Md., infantry courses, popular with Lower Merion student soldiers, are filled and unless more declarations occur than expected all new infantry applicants will be assigned to Fort Eustis, Va. Full transportation will be paid.

Field artillery at Camp Meade is still open.

Fort Eustis is reported splendidly prepared for the camp and a large force is working on the new concrete swimming pool, which is expected to be ready by the time camp opens.

Many noted athletes have been chosen to take charge of athletics. Full arrangements have been made for religious leadership of all faiths. The Montgomery County Committee still has vacancies available to desirable applicants.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Spindler, of Philadelphia, was celebrated last week in Narberth at the home of their son, Mr. Vestus J. Spindler, of Chestnut avenue. The party was given by Mr. Spindler and by Mrs. Albert Burgstresser, a daughter of the old couple, both of whom are well past seventy years of age. At the celebration many presents and remembrances were received and decorations appropriate to the occasion were arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Spindler were married half a century ago in Germany, their birthplace. They have seven living children.

NEW MEETING PLACE

The regular meeting of the Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association will be held next Tuesday in its new headquarters, the office of the Narberth Coal and Building Material Company, 258 Haverford avenue.

The meeting will be open for the payment of dues from seven until nine P. M.

Council Chairman Explains Lien Action and Financial Problem

An article which appeared in a recent issue of "Our Town," concerning the foreclosure of liens, has created much comment. An explanation of the situation has been obtained for the readers of "Our Town." Councilman Kaerber, Chairman of the Liens Committee, when interviewed, made the following statement relative to the activities of his committee.

"Our Borough is no different from any other corporation that depends upon one source for its revenue with which to meet current expenditures. In our case we depend upon funds in the nature of taxes paid into the treasury to provide working capital.

"When any resistance is set up to prevent the Borough from having the use of these funds there is only one recourse and that is, it must borrow money, using as collateral the property valuation of the Borough. This, of course, is not an economical thing to do.

"The borrowing capacity of the Borough should be conserved as much as possible and used only to facilitate permanent revenue producing improvements to the Borough.

"As every tax-paying citizen knows, we have made a wonderful improvement during the past year in our highways. The citizens who benefited most by these improvements were also called upon to make some improvements to their sidewalks and curbs. It is neither right nor proper that the Borough should pay for these improvements or lend the property holders money with which to pay for the work.

"Quite a few of our citizens, apparently, feel that as long as the work has been paid for by the Borough and the Borough has liened the property, thereby insuring ultimate payment of the bill, they have done their part. They are losing sight of the fact, however, that the filing of a lien against their property with the attendant costs and interest charges increases their burden and, in addition to this, they are placing a burden upon other taxpayers of the Borough.

"When a taxpayer refuses to assume his own obligations by way of public improvement, the Borough has the right to proceed with such work and by virtue of the fact that the Borough is obliged to contract for the work, it must pay promptly in order to conserve the Borough's credit standing, but this does not relieve the property holders of their further obligation to reimburse promptly the Borough and as long as these liens are outstanding the Borough

Court Proceedings Recall Old History of Pencoyd Iron Works

Recent proceedings in the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia gave some intimation of the wealth which the late Percival Roberts, the father of Percival Roberts, of Narberth, amassed through the operation of what became, under his management, one of the most important industries, not only of Montgomery county, but of the State of Pennsylvania.

Percival Roberts founded the great bridge works at Pencoyd, now operated by the American Bridge Company. The action in Court resulted because of his two sons, Percival Roberts, Jr., and Peter Williamson Roberts, wished to withdraw from the trustee-

PRIMARY COSTS 25 CENTS PER VOTE

Controller's Figures Show L. M. Beat Norristown in Voting.

792 MORE VOTED HERE

Montgomery county spent about 25 cents for every vote cast in the May primary, exclusive of the fees paid to assessors for registration work and the cost of compiling the record books in which voters' lists are kept, according to an audit made last week by County Controller William C. Irvin. In some election districts the cost ran up to more than $1 a vote.

Only 42,263 of the 92,495 persons eligible to vote cast their ballots. Of that total 22,905 were in the townships and 19,358 in the boroughs. The expenses of the election totaled $9848.70, exclusive of the cost of the ballots, which was approximately $1000 more. That means approximately 25 cents for every ballot.

"Dollar votes" were recorded in East Douglas township, where there were fifty-nine ballots with expenses of $59.70; New Hanover East with fifty-three ballots costing $54.10; Salford with forty-three ballots costing $52.10; Upper Hanover Second with forty-seven ballots costing $52.70, and Upper Pottsgrove with fifty-four ballots costing $64.30.

Costs Mounting.

For all the townships there were 49,766 persons eligible to vote, of whom 22,905 cast ballots at a cost of $5321.20. For the borough only 19,358 ballots were cast out of a total of 42,719, the expense to the county being $4527.50.

Mr. Irvin's figures, compared with those of previous years, indicate that the "per vote" cost of elections is mounting constantly, in spite of increases in the number of ballots cast. The proportionate advance is due to the fact that the ballots cast do not increase in number in ratio to the increased enrollments.

In some districts extreme difficulty has been encountered getting even a fair-sized vote and there are frequent instances of trouble in obtaining services of persons on election boards. In the recent primary it was necessary to impress a very large number of "pinch hitters" on incomplete boards in order to make it

TOLD OF CHECK ARTISTS

Robert J. Boyd, manager of the Cynwyd office of the Merion Title and Trust Company, spoke of problems connected with banking at the weekly luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. He told of checks and checking practice and the methods which crooks use to raise and forge checks.

President Alvin Shull presided. The meeting was at the Cynwyd Club.

181 ENROLL

In Lower Grades Summer Courses—Upper Grades Begin Tuesday.

A total of 181 grade school pupils below the seventh grade enrolled in the six weeks' summer school courses which opened Monday in three Lower Merion buildings, it was announced yesterday by Superintendent S. Edgar Downs.

At the Ardmore Avenue School, Ardmore, there were 65 enrolled; at Ashland there were 62, and at Bryn Mawr there were 54. Three rooms are given over to these graders in the Ardmore and Ashland schools; two are being used in the Bryn Mawr building.

These courses are made up of children who failed of promotion and those who desire additional coaching. There are half-day sessions, beginning at 8.30 A. M.

Next Tuesday an additional school will be provided in the Ardmore avenue building for students of the seventh grade and above, including those of the Junior and Senior High schools. Registrations were still coming in at the office of the Superintendent late this week.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Courts May Be Used Every Week Day.

At the request of the School Board the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. is supervising the high school courts at Montgomery avenue and Church road, Ardmore, until the opening of school in September. The four courts, which are in good condition, are open to both adults and children every weekday from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. A moderate charge is made to cover the cost of supervision and upkeep, children being given the advantage of a reduced rate.

Lessons will be given to those who desire to learn the game. Players may use the courts on the hourly basis; or a season ticket may be secured from the attendant or at the Y. M. C. A. Building at 116 West Lancaster avenue. Reservations may be made in advance for groups or individuals.

PHILATELIST PUBLISHES BOOK

Ralph D. McGuffin, of Chestnut avenue, local philatelist, has entered the ranks of Narberth authors by the recent publication of his book, "Stamps as an Investment."

This work, an attractively gotten up volume, traces the tremendous increase in the value of postage stamps during the present century. The compilation of the figures has been done in an exhaustive and painstaking way. The facts presented are used as the basis for a discussion of ways in which, by judicious selection, postage stamps may be purchased which have a greater earning power than Government bonds.

The stage is all set for Narberth's greatest Fourth of July celebration. The collection of funds, under the joint auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, American Legion, and the Woman's Auxiliary, have proceeded at a rapid pace and if community support continues, an unusually interesting day is promised.

A door-to-door canvass has resulted in the collection of a good part of the necessary fund. Any residents who are inadvertently skipped have been requested by the Legion to see that their contributions are turned in.

Contributions may be left at either of the two local banks or at the Post Office. Further contributions are urgently needed as the committee in charge is sparing no expense in an effort to make the affair a complete success.

The program will begin with a ball game on the playground field at 10 A. M., when Berwyn, the League leaders, will attempt to hold their position against the onslaughts of Jack Jefferies' huskies. In the afternoon Wayne will come down the line to furnish entertainment at 3 o'clock.

The big part of the day will begin after supper. At 7.30 a community dance will be held in the Legion room, lasting until 9 o'clock. As soon as it is dark enough the pyrotechnic display will begin. An unusually spectacular array of pieces has been selected by the committee.

Refreshments will be served free by members of the Legion Auxiliary. The Legion room was decorated this week by Jesse Hause and Walter R. O'Sullivan, who also gave the floor a thorough waxing in preparation for the dance.

The serving of refreshments will be under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Wipf and Mrs. R. C. Hewitt.

Provisions have been made for a large crowd at the playground, where the fireworks display will be held. Extra police will be on duty to direct traffic. The fire company, in command of Chief Charles V. Noel, will be on hand in their new uniforms, prepared to act in case of an emergency.

Members of the American Legion, with their new caps, will assist on the dance floor as well as on the field. Every safeguard will be taken to prevent accidents.

Allan E. Shubert, new commander of the local post, has expressed great satisfaction at the progress made by the committee under the direction of Thomas J. Kerrigan. "This will undoubtedly be the greatest Fourth of July celebration our borough has ever held," said Mr. Shubert yesterday.

The support given the legion by the community at large has been very gratifying, but still further collections must be made, if the legion is to be relieved of the necessity of passing the hat next Monday.

In commenting upon the progress of the campaign, Mr. Kerrigan said, "We are much encouraged, but the job is not finished yet. If every citizen will give to this community celebration the amount which, in former years, he has been wont to spend for a private display, we will easily pass the goal."

Barring a tornado, a pestilence, or a flood, next Monday will see a patriotic celebration long to be remembered by every resident, young or old, of this borough.

Douglass Livingston, son of Mrs. M. M. Livingston, of Chestnut avenue, left on Wednesday for Greenwich, Conn., where he will spend the month of July.

Miss Isabelle Sayres, of Detroit, Michigan, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Haws, of Dudley avenue.

HEALTH NOTE

To the Editor of "Our Town":
Now that summer is well under way, and weak children and feeble old people are particularly liable to stomach and intestinal troubles, great care must be exercised in both the preparation and administration of food for these individuals. Of particular importance is "baby's bottle." Be careful beyond doubt that "baby's bottle" and baby's nipple are clean and free of all contaminating substances, before feeding. Bottles should be rinsed at once when feeding is completed, and then filled with water and permitted to stand filled with water until such time as the leisure from other duties allows time to cleanse them thoroughly. Nipples should be washed carefully by turning them inside out, using a weak solution of ammonia or borax and water or bicarbonate soda and water, and then again rinsing with fresh water until free of ALL foreign matter. The same cleansing aid material is to be used in washing the bottle. A safe and reliable plan in bottle cleansing is to put a half teaspoonful of either borax, bicarbonate soda or ammonia into the bottle with about one-fourth the bottle full of water; put a few shreds of white paper (the white unprinted edge of newspaper will do admirably); shake until the paper is reduced to pulp, and then shake out and rinse with water until free of all contamination; then either dry, sterilize or drain and stopper with cotton or refill to the TOP with fresh water and put in a clean place until wanted. If bottle cleaning brushes are used remember that the brush is more or less absorbent and is retention of decomposed matter and must, in turn, be carefully kept clean and in a clean place, and if soap is used remember that soap sometimes precipitates on both brush and bottle, due to the decomposing effect of the lime in our drinking water. REMEMBER—a bottle is not clean because of going thru the motion of cleaning it; and to have baby healthy and to keep baby healthy BOTTLES MUST BE KEPT CLEAN. It boots little to worry the doctor about stomach and intestinal disturbances unless you help all you can in the matter of proper feeding.

ROBERTS HISTORY

one of the party of Welsh settlers who arrived on the ship Lyon in 1682, two months before William Penn trod the shores of his province.
The Lyon made its way up the Schuylkill River and the settlers landed in the neighborhood of the present Pencoyd. Hugh Roberts made his home here and gave it the Welsh name Pencoyd, meaning "treetops."
The Friends' meeting that the new settlers organized was held for some years in the home of Hugh Roberts. Later on the Merion Meeting House, still standing on Montgomery pike near Narberth, was built.
When Percival Roberts, in association with his brother, Algonon, opened the iron works at Pencoyd in 1852, their purpose was to make heavy hardware. Soon, however, they began specializing in the manufacture of axles for locomotives and cars, and this was their main output for some years.
About 1859 they began making iron bridges, both wrought iron and cast iron being used. This firm was the first to produce iron bridges on a large scale. From then on until the end of the century such bridges were regarded as the most desirable. They supplanted the earlier stone bridges, just as in recent times concrete bridges have supplanted the structures of iron.
Many large and notable bridges were built during the early years of the Pencoyd firm. The iron railroad bridge spanning the Delaware River at Easton, erected in 1859, a product of the Roberts firm, elicited wonderment and admiration.
Numerous Government and railroad contracts came to the Pencoyd works, and the plant that had its inception in a building 75 by 75 feet, with 12 workmen, was rapidly enlarged until it covered many acres and its employees were numbered by the thousands.

The New Fish Code.

For the information of anglers who frequently make queries, the provisions of the fish code now in operation in the State are repeated. They are:
Reduction in the age limit under the resident fisherman's license from 18 years to 16 years.
The non-resident fisherman's license law is made reciprocal, but in no instance is the license to be less than $2.50.
Fishing devices are restricted to two rods, two lines, and one hand line.
Special devices for which permits are issued have been done away with entirely.
The season on bass, pike-perch, pickerel, muscallonge, etc., will close on the first day of December instead of the 30th.

THE LIEN SITUATION

ough Treasurer is obliged to borrow in order to make up the deficit. The interest paid to the bank for this money is taken from current revenue, or working capital, supplied by all of the taxpayers. Therefore, a citizen who permits a lien filed against his property to remain unpaid virtually asks every other taxpayer in the Borough to stand a proportionate burden of the interest charges paid for money borrowed.
"I am advised by our Borough Solicitor that we have a right to foreclose on these liens anytime after they have been properly filed and recorded. Council, as a whole, is loath to take such drastic action, as they feel that the property holders who now have liens filed against their property should have enough civic pride to prevent this, as such action always carries with it a certain amount of embarrassment and unhealthy publicity.
"Therefore, the Liens Committee before making any definite recommendations to Council relative to such foreclosures wish to give these property holders every opportunity to make their settlement; however, the Liens Committee has no right to grant any definite extension of time and its recommendations will be predicated entirely upon the disposition of the property holder."

THEY WORK TOGETHER

Weeds in and around the garden harbor both insects and disease, particularly if the weeds are related to the cultivated plants. Plant lice, red spiders, and other insects invade the garden from neighboring weed borders. Cabbage pests live on wild mustard, shepherd's purse and related weeds. Destroy the weeds. Just as soon as any crop is gathered spade up the ground, bury the old remains deeply, and plant something else.

ORIGINAL HAY MAKER

Man was not the originator of haymaking. The pika or cony, a little rodent living in the mountainous regions of the West, has probably made hay for his own use for thousands of years. He cuts fine-stemmed grasses, sedges, shrubs and other plants, bundles them up and puts them away in sheltered places among rocks for curing. Because he eats it himself he is more particular than man and produces a more uniform, fragrant, green product.

NARBERTH HANDS BLANK TO WALZER'S NINE

8-0 Score Takes Autocar Out of First Place.

Autocar, managed by Fred Walzer, Narberth magistrate and former team manager, was the victim of an 8-0 shut-out last Saturday on the playground field.

This upset the tie existing in the Main Line League between Berwyn and Autocar for first place. Babb, pitching for the champions, held the visitors to eight scattered hits and was very strong in the pinches. He also collected four safeties. Cullinan led the Autocar stickers with three hits.

The familiar faces of Yocum, Humphries and Burns, former members of the local nine, were seen among the Ardmoreans.

Berwyn went into first place in the first half of the Main Line League race by winning from Brookline, 10 to 2, while Narberth was beating Autocar.

Trost was in rare form for the winners, holding the visitors to two hits, one of which was a home run by Umholtz. Marsh started for Brookline but was forced out by the heavy hitting of Dan Redmond's crew.

In a weird Main Line League game Preston won from Wayne, 20 to 6. Wayne enjoyed a lead of 5-0 for the first three innings, but the visitors got to the offerings of Costigan, Lewis and Hogan, in slap-bang style from then on, and aided by some loose playing, ran up a record score. Faulk and Joe McMonigle had a field day with five and four hits each.

NOT SAME VALUE

Rice and potatoes are not exactly the same in food value, even though they are both rich in starch. Potatoes contain some minerals and vitamins. Milled rice lacks these entirely, so there should be plenty of fruits and vegetables in the daily meals if rice is served often.

The Country Beckons

Did you know that you can get a fine, powerful, perfectly appointed car for your Fourth of July picnic at a ridiculously low cost?

You can ride out into the country to some shady nook by a stream, spend the day and return to Bryn Mawr in the evening, thoroughly refreshed to take up your work for the rest of the week.

For a party of four or five the cost would be only a few dollars apiece.

THE JUNE BOOK LIST

The list of books purchased by the Narberth Community Library during the month of June includes Sinclair Lewis' newest novel, one by Ida Wylie (this being the first of her books to find its way to the Narberth Library shelves), and the much discussed "Our Times," by Mark Sullivan. The sixteen books purchased are evenly divided between fiction and non-fiction. The following is the complete list:

Non-fiction:

America's Most Historic Highway, Joseph Jackson. It is Market street, Philadelphia.

Arcturus Adventure, William Beebe. Record of Mr. Beebe's expedition to discover the secret of the Sargasso Sea.

Gang Age, Paul H. Furfey. A study of the growing boy and his needs.

Our Times, Mark Sullivan. History written to make one understand his own time.

Some American Ladies, Meade Minnigrode. Humor and shrewd understanding of feminine foibles in these sketches of some of the First Ladies of the Land.

Venture Book, Elinor Mordaunt. Strange and fascinating narrative of experience among the savages of the Solomon Islands.

Fiction:

Black Harvest, I. A. R. Wylie. An after-the-war story with a hero half German and half African, who hopes to save the world.

Cartwright Gardens Murder, J. S. Fletcher. Another thrilling mystery.

Love in Greenwich Village, Floyd Dell. Short stories of gay romances of Bohemia.

Love Nest, Ring Lardner. Humorous short stories.

Madame Judas, Margaret Turnbull. An unusual mystery story.

Mantrap, Sinclair Lewis. Story of a New York "he-man" in the North Woods.

Mauve Decade, Thomas Beer. A dissection of American life at the end of the nineteenth century.

Prize Stories of 1925. O. Henry Memorial Award. The most notable short stories of the year.

Sorrell and Son, Warwick Deeping. A story which shows how a father through sympathy and intelligence may bring about a beautiful relationship between his son and himself.

Treasure of the Lake, H. Rider Haggard. A thrilling story of adventure and the supernatural.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN DEFENDS PRIMARY

Leaders Admit Law Needs Strengthening, But Are Against Repeal.

WOULD LIMIT EXPENSES

Any attempts to kill the direct primary will be strenuously fought by the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters. Leaders of the organization, among whom were a number from Lower Merion, at a meeting in Philadelphia, Saturday, made it clear that the women believed the present law needs strengthening by amendments which would limit paid watchers and restrict within a reasonable sum the amount spent by candidates or their supporters.

Some of the League's views are set forth in two editorials in the official bulletin for July.

"If the convention system which, it is proposed, shall be substituted for the primary system does not work in the future as it did not work satisfactorily in the past, shall we then consider an advocate setting up some kind of a dictatorship?" reads one of the editorials.

Believe Last Was a Lesson.

"Who is to say that the voters have not learned a lesson from the late primaries? Who is to say that they will not take full advantage of their experience? Are we summarily to interfere with the normal political development and evolution of the people because certain leaders were ethically apathetic; because ethical necrosis and numbness resulted in terrific expenditures; because unusual conditions, the like of which may never occur again, precipitated the whole unhealthy and unwholesome state of affairs?"

Independence Day.

Independence Day has long been celebrated as a glorious occasion, yet independence is not the final ideal for human nature.

The events of Independence Day were a good deal like the time a boy or girl reaches manhood or womanhood. They can well feel happy when they become 21 years of age, and attain the full rights of citizens. But attaining those rights does not assure their welfare until they know how to supply some need in society.

Independence Day and the events that followed gave the American people a chance to make good, but they have to co-operate year after year in accepting that chance.

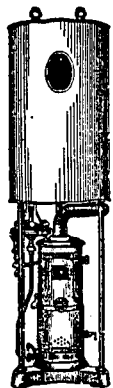

Thanks to the Teachers.

Teachers are not usually satisfied merely to go through their lessons in a routine way. They devote long hours to preparing them, and to helping backward pupils. Our best wishes to them for a vacation rest that shall restore their physical and mental elasticity, and give them energy for the next year of work.

ANGLERS PLAN TRIP

Magistrate Frank Kromer, of Cynwyd; Squire Fred Walzer, of Narberth; John Miller, of Narberth; William H. Decker, and Howard Kromer, of Cynwyd, will compose a fishing party which will try its luck at Fortescue, N. J., next Thursday, July 8. Handicaps have already been arranged.

Mrs. A. T. Follette and daughter, Clara, of Wayne avenue, left Narberth recently for an extended trip to California. Miss Follette graduated recently from the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Irvin is a frequent speaker before industrial, social and civic groups, and is one of the most frequent advocates of deeper interest in political affairs.

The largest number of ballots was cast in the Abington-Weldon district with 1010, while the low mark was set in Salford, with only 43. The tremendous Republican strength which lies in the townships adjacent to the city limits was emphasized by the fact that 12,558 votes were cast in Abington, Cheltenham and Lower Merion, of which fully 85 per cent. were Republicans. Lower Merion had the highest vote total in the county with 6401, exceeding Norristown, where only 5609 were cast. Cheltenham had 2875 and Abington 3282; Conohocken had 1745.
